The Daily Standard.

Tuesday, August 23, 1870.

Editorial.

Owing to the extraordinary proceedings, reported elsewhere, taken by Mr. Pemberton, the Stipendiary Magistrate of this city, against the proprietor of this journal, yesterday, by which the Editor's time was diverted from his professional duties, we have had to defer our usual editorial. In the meantime, we wish the public to understand that we are taking the preliminary steps to secure the removal of Mr. Pemberton, and to ask the Governor to provide some one to fill his place who is likely to act in harmony with English usage, and not make attempts to gag the press. The Governor must be asked to remove Pemberton; and if he don't, let us ask the Queen.

Police Court.

[Before A. F. Pemberton, Esq., Stipendiary Magistrate,]

MONDAY, August 22, 1870.

Mr. Amor DeCosmos was brought up in custody, charged, upon a warrant issued by the Stipendiary Magistrate, with unlawfully, falsely, and maliciously publishing a false and malicious libel, calculated to intimidate the Magistrates in the execution of their duty, and to bring the administration of justice into contempt. Mr. McCreight, barrister, appeared for the defence.

Police Sergeant McMillan deposed as follows: I produce the VICTORIA DAILY STANDARD newspaper of the 19th inst. It contains the following article:

"A HARD CASE.

"It is surprising how much petty tyranny is perpetrated in this community! The refusal of Messrs. Trimble, Macdonald and Pemberton to grant Stevens a license is a case in point. If they had offered any reason for their refusal—anything on which to ground a refusal—there would be a shadow of justification for their conduct. But we find no color of reason at all. On the contrary, the case of Stevens was deferred to learn how the appeal on the sailor-harboring case, on which he had been convicted, would go on appeal. The Chief Justice decided against the Stipendiary, Mr. Pemberton, and freed Stevens of the conviction, or fine of $50; yet the very next day but one afterward, Messrs. Trimble, Macdonald and Pemberton find it convenient to refuse him a license, after he had been declared innocent. What consistency is there in this decision? Whilst the innocence of Stevens is doubtful, he is allowed to sell. When his innocence is placed beyond doubt, he is not allowed to sell. Now, as the facts of the case have come before us, we have no opinion to express on the conduct of the Bench, except that their refusal is a piece of petty tyranny. It is no use moderating language by saying it is an error of judgment, which no doubt it is; for that error is practical tyranny. If the magistrates have good cause to refuse a license, why did they not say so. Why deprive Stevens of his right to make a living as an innkeeper? Everybody who has stopped at his place has been treated politely; the bar and table are as good as any outside of Victoria. The house is a public convenience; then why shall the public be put to inconvenience and Stevens be deprived of the ordinary right of a citizen? Why shall this petty tyranny be continued?"

Mr. McCreight—How do you know that Mr. DeCosmos wrote that article?

McMillan—The paper states that he is the editor and proprietor.

Mr. McCreight—Is it in his handwriting?

McMillan—No; it is printed.

Mr. McCreight contended that this was not satisfactory proof, but ultimately waived the objection. He submitted that the course which had been pursued in this case was a most unusual and improper one. The proper course was, for the Attorney General to move in the Supreme Court for a criminal information, so that a superior court might decide whether there was any ground for a prosecution. The last instance of a Magistrate issuing a warrant in the first instance, occurred so long ago as 1820. That was a peculiarly aggravated case, the prisoner having publicly accused Lord Castlereagh, the Prime Minister, with telling a lie in his seat in the House of Lords, and Lord Ellenborough, the Lord Chancellor, with taking a bribe. (Butt vs. Conant.) The Magistrate was held to have been justified in committing the accused, on account of the gross nature of the case. In the present instance the issuing of a warrant was most unnecessary and harsh. The language complained of did not impute corruption, as in the above case, but only arbitrary conduct. The rule in England was for the Attorney General to move in the Court of Queen's Bench for a criminal information. A similar course ought to have been adopted in this case; or if the Attorney General did not think it worth while to interfere Mr. Pemberton had the same remedy by civil action as any one else.

The Stipendiary Magistrate said he had no intention to punish Mr. DeCosmos, but considered this proceeding necessary to protect the administration of justice. He had no doubt magistrates had power to send such a care for trial, and proposed to do so on the prisoner's own recognizance.

Mr. McCreight said, it was not a good thing to mix up criminal with civil proceedings, or to adopt criminal where civil proceedings would be sufficient. At any rate a motion in the Supreme Court for a criminal information would answer every purpose, and would be the most dignified course.

The Stipendiary Magistrate thought this would be making the case too important.

Mr. McCreight protested against Mr. DeCosmos being brought up on a warrant.

The Stipendiary Magistrate said this was not the first time Mr. DeCosmos had libelled the administration of justice in that court. It was a most serious offence, particularly in such a community as this.

Mr. McCreight said it was not proper that the same person should be both prosecutor and judge, and again urged that the initiatory proceedings should be taken, if at all, by the Attorney General in the Supreme Court.

The Stipendiary Magistrate said the case was not yet completed, and must go on.

Mr. McCreight repeated his objection, and quoted Cooke on Defamation to show that blasphemous and seditious libels alone were the offences to be proceeded against in the manner now before the Court. In other cases the accused could not be bound over to keep the peace.

The Stipendiary Magistrate said, this article interfered with the administration of justice.

Mr. McCreight—We have had a good many evil things done here; but I hope the liberty of the press to discuss the public administration of justice is not to be taken away. This certainly seems a step in that direction.

McMillan's examination continued: Produced the VICTORIA DAILY STANDARD of the 20th inst., and read extracts from "Viator's" letter on "Stevens' Case." In answer to questions from the Bench he was proceeding to state that he was present in this court in 1869, when Stevens' license was refused and the reason for such refusal, when Mr. McCreight interposed the objection that the evidence was irrelevant to the issue; and ultimately it was struck out of the depositions.

Mr. McCreight then addressed the Bench for the defence. He regretted that the usual course of law which he had already pointed out, had not been adopted, and contended that this not being a blasphemous or seditious libel, the magistrate had no power to bind Mr. DeCosmos over to be of good behaviour keep the peace, or to prevent him from commenting on the tribunals of the country. This was clear, even from the statute 49 Geo. III, c. 58, which was enacted at a time when the Crown did almost anything it pleased. In order to keep the press free, the practice was not to interfere with it criminally until the superior court had decided that the case was a proper one for prosecution.

The Stipendiary Magistrate said he had no wish to act with ill-will, but only to do his duty. He would consult with the Attorney General, and let him take up the case if he thought fit. He suggested, however, that the matter might be ended by Mr. DeCosmos entering into his own recognizance for good behavior.

Mr. McCreight declined to entertain the suggestion. His client had merely charged the Court with an error of judgment, not with corruption.

The Stipendiary Magistrate said, tyranny was something more than an error of judgment. It was an attempt to intimidate him in the discharge of his duty.

By arrangement, the case was remanded for a week, Mr. DeCosmos being liberated on his own recognizance in the sum of $500, to appear on Monday next.

Kootney.

From Mr. Johnston, who arrived from Kootney on Saturday, we learn that he left Kootney on the 1st inst., arrived at Hope on the 15th, and New Westminster on the 16th. He furnishes us with the following news:

A new camp has been struck near the Moojie, and is called, Palmers Bar. It bids fair to become a paying camp. The ground worked, so far, has paid from $15 to $20 per day to the hand. There are but a few claims opened, on account of scarcity of water. The paying ground is of a loose nature, and known amongst miners as a wash. The distance which a flume will have to be constructed will be at least five miles, to the Moojie river, where water is abundant. Parties are testing the ground thoroughly, previous to commencing, and it is fully believed water will be brought on this ensuing Fall. There are about 200 miners at this place. Opinion, as to the merits of the ground, is divided, but the majority believes it will be a permanent camp. Still there has not been sufficient paying ground discovered to justify a rush to that locality, at present. On

PERRY CREEK,

Six companies were at work, making good wages. The Montgomery and Hoff claims were paying well, but the camps, in general, look dull on account of the rush to Palmers Bar.

WILD HORSE CREEK.

The hydraulics were all working, with general satisfactory results. The Nip and Tuck, and Griffin Companies, were paying well. The markets are well supplied, and at low rates. Beef, only, is high, selling at 20 @25 cents. Several pack trains are on their way in. Coxon's train from Hope, was obliged to go via Colville and Pen d'Oreille lake, the trail from Shepard being impassible.

ROCK CREEK

Still maintains its paying reputation, having washed up twice, lately, with satisfactory results. A saw-mill is about to be constructed at this place, which will aid the progress of the mines materially.

THE ROADS.

Mr. Johnston came via Shepeid and Colville. He was obliged to travel on foot to Shepeid, on account of the obstructions on the road, in the way of fallen timber, avalanches, &c. From Colville to Hope there are fires, and the road in various places is blockaded up with timber. The crops along the entire route, look well; harvesting had commenced, and all the grain would be saved. The mosquetoes are more numerous this season than any former years, and the weather is exceedingly hot. He was detained in New Westminster four days, on account of the irregularity of the steamer.

MAINLAND ITEMS.—From the Guardian of the 17th and 20th, we glean the following items: The Hyack Co. have had a drill under their new Officers. The engine worked well since it has been repaired.....Telegraph communication was completed last Tuesday to New Westminster, but the fires in the woods soon stopped its working, fallen trees having broken the wire in several places..... There has been a large fire in the woods on the south side of the Fraser River from New Westminster.....Mr. Peele has purchased the drag store owned by the late H. W. Smith at New Westminster, and will commence business immediately.....The steamer Onward arrived from Yale with a few passengers and about $10,000 in treasure in private hands ....The Enterprise has replaced the bouys in Fraser River.....The Assizes will open in New Westminster next Wednesday.....The ship Henry Reed is progressing favorably with her loading at Burard Inlet.....Mr. H. Nelson publishes a card in the Guardian that he is a candidate for the district of New Westminster for the Legislative Council.

GAZETTE NOTICES.—The following notices appeared in Saturday's Gazette, from H. B. W. Aikman, Esq., Deputy Registrar of Titles:

"In persuance of the provisions of "The land Registry Ordinance, 1870," I shall issue a Duplicate Certificate of Title to Subdivisions 1 and 2 of Lots 618 and 619, Victoria City, in the name of Elward Franklin, unless cause be shown to the contrary within one month from the date hereof.

Notice is hereby given that I shall, in accordance with the provisions of the "Crown Grants Ordinance, 187)," and at the expiration of three months from the date hereof, recommend the issue of a Crown Grant to William Barton and Thomas Wall, as tenants in common, of all those pieces of land situate in the Nanaimo District, and being that part of Section 2, Range VI, on the East side of the River, containing about 9 and twenty-five hundredths acres, the whole of Section 2, Range VII., and the West half of Section 2, Range VIII., unless objection be made to me in writing in the meanime against the issue thereof.

POLICE COURT.—Tom, a Chemainus Indian, was brought up in the Police Court yesterday morning, charged with the murder of R. Clarke. The evidence of the murdered man's wife was taken, the facts of which have already been published. The prisoner was remanded for one day. John Manson and Thos. Reilly, were charged with assaulting an Indian woman. Both of them were fined $10 each, or in default to suffer one months' imprisonment.

PICNIC.—The prizes which are to be given away at the French Society picnic on the 5th of September are on exhibition in the windows of the brick store adjoining the Colonial Hotel. Everything is very neatly arranged in the window and looks pretty. Each ticket will draw a prize, some of which are very valuable. One of the prizes is a silk dress valued at $35. Parties wishing tickets had better get them at once

VENISON.—Yesterday, we noticed some of the fatest venison which we have ever seen in the country in the market of George Poplham, Johnson street.

Nanaimo Items.

THE CROPS,

In and around Nanaimo, are looking remarkably well. The past week has been intensely hot, so that the greater part of the grain is already harvested.

SHIPPING.

The Shooting Star arrived last night; also the steamers G. S. Wright, Enterprise and Douglas, all waiting for coal.

COAL.

Our coal bin has increased within the last few months to an enormous extent. There can be, at the present, no less than 20,000 tons of coal on hand, ready for shipment. how and when it will be got rid of, it is hard to say.

THE BRIDGE.

Our new bridge across the ravine is in course of construction, and when finished will be a great improvement to the town.

NEW COAL MINE.

The new coal mine being opened by Mr. Dunsmuir is gradually progressing. The road is cut through to Departure Bay—a distance of two miles—and already about 40 tons of splendid coal is on the beach ready for shipment.

QUARRY.

The stone quarry is still in full blast. Most of the hands employed are Chinamen, a few white men alone being retained to cut the stone in blocks after it is excavated. Great dissatisfaction has been caused in town lately, on account of the company being permitted to throw their stripping and loose rock into our narrow channel and exit passage. Five years ago the same thing was attempted, but immediately put a stop to by the officials. Should it be continued, I fear before long all vessels will be obliged to run outside Newcastle Island to get to or from here to Departure Bay.—COM.

August 17, 1870.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO.—The U. S. steamer Newbern, Capt. Freeman, arrived outside the harbor yesterday morning, four days from San Francisco. She brought a large English mail, for which the public are greatly indebted to Capt. Freeman. She left at 2:30 o'clock, for Sitka, via San Juan Island, Nanaimo, and all the way places. She will return in about one month.

LONDON.—By private letter from London, England, we learn that Mr. Alexander Watson, formerly Inspector of the Bank of British Columbia in this city, is applying for the secretaryship of the East India Docks. Mr. Maunsell, formerly private secretary to Governor Seymour, is walking around the streets of London, not having an appointment yet.

FROM PUGET SOUND.—The steamer Eliza Anderson arrived last night at 11 o'clock, from Puget Sound, via San Juan Island, where she landed General Canby, who joined the Newbern there and will proceed to Alaska in her to take charge of that Department. The Anderson will leave this morning, at 11 o'clock for the Sound.

LECTURE.—Rev. F. X. Weninger will deliver a lecture in the German language, to-night, at St Andrew's Cathedral, Humboldt street, commencing at 8 o'clock. Germans of all denominations are invited to attend. *

FROM PUGET SOUND.—The steamer Alida, Capt. Starr, arrived from Puget Sound at 8 o'clock last evening, with about 40 passengers and a mail. She will leave to-morrow morning, at 2 o'clock, for the Sound.

DEPARTURES.—The steamers Sir J. Douglas and Enterprise will leave this morning, the former at 7 o'clock for Nanaimo, Comox and way places, and the latter for New Westminster, at 9 o'clock.

LOADING.—The H. B. Co.'s ship Prince of Wales was on the berth at London, for Vancouver Island, on July the 21st. The Lady Lampson had not sailed at latest datest.

Shutting Out his View.

EDITOR STANDARD:—I was not a little amused to read in your paper the other day that at the last meeting of the Municipal Council, one of the members of that body coolly moved that a Committee be appointed to frame a by-law for regulating the height of fences within the city limits. It seems that some lover of nature had complained of his neighbor "shutting out his view."

Now, Mr. Editor, how is Victoria ever to be built up into a great city if every one is to be so particular about "his view." If each one has the undoubted right of covering his lot with a five or six story brick building, and in this way shutting out his neighbour's view, surely he has the same right to shut out the view with a brick wall or any other kind of fence.

If I were a rich man, I should like nothing better than to enclose any dwelling and garden of mine with a ten-foot brick wall like Money Fraser, and thus enshrine myself within my own shrubbery, as wealthy people do in English towns, and in this way shut out the gaze of the crowd who are supposed to wonder what takes place within the sacred enclosure. Besides, it must be remembered that the street frontage of any town lot cannot be interfered with, and if the complainant's neighbor has taken the trouble and expense of erecting a good blind fence on either of the other sides, most persons would feel thankful for such a circumstance, instead of carping about "shutting out the view."

It is fortunate the government have a veto on any by-law of this Council, and it is to be hoped they will recommend all lovers of nature to migrate to the country districts if they are so fond of "the view."

LYNX.

Patent Law.

EDITOR STANDARD:—Will you inform me whether there is any Patent Law for Vancouver Island or British Columbia, or, if one, whether there is any machinery in existence here, which would render the Patent Laws of England applicable to this Colony. If this question were not one of public interest I would not address you. I have in view two mechanical inventions which would give considerable employment in town, but it is not likely I would employ my time and money in introducing them unless certain of protection. I have no doubt others are similarly interested in this inquiry.

BONA PUBLICO.

Yes, there is a Patent Law, apply to the Surveyor General.—ED. STANDARD.

T. N. HIBBEN & Co. having for a period of years appropriated a certain class of books for a Circulating Library, more for accommodation than profit, have by a fair experiment tested that in consequence of the destroyed and missing numbers issued, the result to them has been a positive loss. SPECIAL TO THE DAILY STANDARD.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Europe

PARIS, August 21.—Strong bodies of troops belonging to McMahon's army are being pushed into Vosges.

The Deputy of the Corps Legislatif to-day announced that the Prussians had entered Clattilion-Sur-Marne. This would indicate that the Prussians are marching on Paris, via Susann.

A dispatch from a Prussian source announces the commencement of the bombardment of Strasburg.

It is particularly denied that the Emperor is at Rhiems; he has again gone to Chalons.

Advices from Mulhausen report that the Prussians had entered Erston. Gen. Trochu issued a proclamation, the meaning of which is, Paris will have to stand a siege.

A correspondent of Saulvis declares, from actual observation, that the road from Metz to Verdun is occupied by Prussians. At Verdun no news has been heard of Bazaine since the 19th.

The Figaro asserts that the camp at Chalons is broken up, and the troops lately there must now be close to the camp of the Prince Royal. If so, the Prussians now have around them Marshal Bazaine with his forces massed in and around Metz, on one hand, and McMahon, with his corps and the large force which was at Chalons, on the other.

The Republique says the statement of the Figaro is correct.

The Constitutionel says that England, Russia, and Italy have agreed to act together to insure peace.

BRUSSELS, August 21—Noon.—It is believed that England and Italy have determined on intervention, and jointly. Russia's concurrence is immediately expected.

BERLIN, August 21.—It is officially stated that the only important news received since the action at Rosinville is that the French have withdrawn all forces from fortifications to Metz.

LONDON, August 21.—Telegrams of Saturday morning only just received in Paris from the seat of war around Metz. The position of Bazaine causes the greatest apprehension in Paris. It is now known that the Prussian Crown Prince is at Vitry la Francois, and a battle is hourly expected between him and McMahon.

A special from Paris on Friday night says that the Emperor, while at Chalons, was hissed and hooted by the soldiers.

Flasburg, in Vosges, was captured on Saturday by the Wurtemburg army. The capture of this fortress insures communication of the Crown Prince with his base of supplies.

A special correspondent writes from Chalons on the 18th, that the Emperor has arrived here. McMahon and Canrobert are here. In the affair at Longeville the Emperor narrowly escaped being killed or captured.

LONDON, August 21.—Cholera is raging at St. Petersburg. One hundred and fifty persons are dying daily.

CARLSRUHE, August 21.—The Herald's special says Strasbourg is in flames. The French have fired the surrounding villages. They make frail sorties, which are constantly repulsed. Eight thousand Prussians have arrived by train with siege artillery. The city is surrounded by thirty thousand men, under Gen. Werder. The inhabitants are demoralized and disorder prevails everywhere. A surrender is hourly expected.

The Crown Prince has won another victory in a great battle before Chalons.

PONTA MOUSSON via London, August 21.—Prisoners are still pouring in. Last night there arrived 2000 prisoners and 36 officers, and to-day twice that number of soldiers and 54 officers were brought in, among the latter was Gen. Plombino.

The loss of the French during the week cannot be less than 50,000 killed, wounded and missing. At Conflans, Theonville and Gravalotte they are known to have lost 15,000 in each battle, including at least 4,000 prisoners.

NEW YORK, August 21.—The World's special from London 21st says, the battle at Risonville was without decisive result. It is claimed by the Prussians. The French fell back in good order to Metz, their ammunition having given out. The losses of the Prussians greatly exceeded those of the French, the former losing 40,000 on Thursday alone, Steinmitz' whole corps being cut to pieces, and his magnificent cavalry no longer exists.

Some say the Crown Prince is marching on Chalons, others that he has halted at Basle. McMahon is at Chalons.

PORTLAND, August 22.—The operator at San Francisco informs us that King William and staff, and Gen. Sheridan, have been captured by the French. No particulars yet received.

LONDON, July 20.—The following is the recapitulation of army movements for the past few days, and which was received here, to-day, from Paris: On Sunday, Aug. 14th, Bazaine established a temporary line of defence on the right bank of the Moselle, between Falmoment and Etangs, along the river Moselle. After Metz was fully garrisoned he returned to the left bank of the Moselle, and was attacked by Prince Fredrick Charles, who, with 70,000 men, assailed Bazaine's rear, which was commanded by Generals Dexea and Ladnuzault. The Prussians attempted to break the French line, but only detained its retreat some hours, and were at length repulsed with an enormous loss. The Prussian army came within range of the guns of St. Guentin, and was mowed down by the French artillery. After this battle the Prussians sent a flag of truce and asked an armistice to bury their dead; it was granted by the French commander.

Monday, Aug. 15.—Bazaine passed the Moselle, with his army undisturbed.

Tuesday—Prince Fredrick Charles having also passed the Moselle with his principal force, attacked the French right at Gravelotte and Theonville, at the same time as the first Prussian army corps under Stenmitz, advanced from the north-east and south-west, toward the French centre and left, at Don Court. The Prussians tried to envelope the French army, on the north and east, and drive them back on the third Prussian army, under Prince Royal, which was advancing from Barbe Duc. The French peasants alone baffeled this plan, which, if successful, would have left France without any defences other than what are in Chalons.

Bazaine, in a fight on Thursday, defeated the 3d army of Prussia.

The Prussian army has been badly punished.

The Prussian reserve, at various points, amounts to 200,000 men.

It is stated by the Paris police that the report that Prince Fredrick Charles was wounded, is untrue.

Specials to the New York Herald, by private letters, predict the certain rise of the populace, and the expulsion of the Bonapartes from France, creating Trochu, Dictator, and the eventual restoration of the Orleanists.

The reported insubordination of the Garde Mobile, at Chalons, is fully confirmed. Insulting cries were made against the Emperor and his officers, and the worst spirit is manifested. The whole Garde are to be transferred to Paris, and scattered among troops on the fortifications.

Special to the Herald—At Berlin, to-day, the publication of the King's dispatch, announcing the defeat of Bazaine, created a tremendous excitement.

Evening—A special to the Herald says, a dispatch to the Prussian Embassy, reports that Bazaine made a desperate effort, at daybreak, to force his way through the Prussian lines. After three hours fighting he was repulsed with loss, and driven within Metz.

PONTA-MOUSSON, August 19, via BERLIN, August 20.—Yesterday the Prussians announced a brilliant Victory near Gravilotte, the French expelled from every position they held and were driven back upon Metz and confined to narrow territory around that fortification which was completely cut off from Paris. The 12th Prussian army corps holds railways of Metz and Theonville. Prussians loss heavy.

NANCY, August 19.—Crown Prince reported to have reached Vitry yesterday. Rumors of fighting at Chalons to-day. Bazaine was driven to Metz and his army invested, there can be no escape from capitutation.

PARIS, August 20.—A special to the New York Herald says the utmost consternation prevailed in the city this evening when the first intelligence of the defeat and entrapment of Bazaine's army was made known, the scenes that followed on Boulevards beggar description. Immense crowds surrounded the Chambers with loud expressions of anger. Report circulated of the intended abdication of Napoleon in favor of his son with Empress as regent. All sorts of rumors flying, one asserts a change in the Ministry and accession of M. Thiers and other Orleanists to power; another that the Empress has applied to Austria and Italy for succor.

PARIS, August 20.—There are rumors of fighting at Chalons yesterday; nothing official received.

MADRID, August 20.—Government is preparing heavy shipments of troops for Cuba early in September.

FLORENCE, August 20.—There was a violent debate in Chambers yesterday. Deputy Malens accused the ministers of violating the neutrality of Italy, by sending Italian troops to defend Europe.

VIENNA, August 20.—An Imperial decree opens the Provincial Diets.

English Mail Summary.

Mr. Thomas Talbot has been appointed a member of the Legislative Council of the Island of Newfoundland.

The little steamer Ragusa has been spoken in lat. 49 15 N. long. 45 W.

A number of noblemen and gentlemen have formed themselves into a committee under the presidency of the Duke of Cambridge, in order to signify the public appreciation of the loyalty and valour of the Canadian volunteers in defending their frontier line.

The attitude of the United States in reference to the Franco-Prussian war is watched with intense eagerness, as it is felt that much will depend upon the new Minister to England. It is generally hoped that he will be found to be a man of farseeing and liberal tendencies.

In the House of Commons, July 22nd, the Elementary Education Bill was read a third time and sent up to the Lords.

From what fell from Mr. Gladstone in the House of Commons the other day in reference to the Alabama claims, it appears that as the offer of Her Majestys' Government had been refused, it now rests with the United States to make a proposition for the resumption of negotiations.
